Hope For San Nicolas, Jobs On The Way.

According to Sean Lalani, president of Eagle LNG, with the signing of an agreement between the Company and RDA a Milestone has been achieved. Actually he meant that Eagle LNG for years were seeking for opportunity to invest in the Carribean for quite some time, and now the wish is in the direction of becoming a reality.

Lalani said that with the recent agreement ,can start working on the preparation for construction of the Gas Terminal. A part of the preparation is approaching local contractors, which will start immediately. The intention is to start construction on the refinery ground in San Nicolas this Summer, or maybe before Summer.

The President of LNG emphasized that the project concern will give Boost to Aruba's Economy, it will create jobs and most of all it will contribute to consistent low power prices. And the intention is to produce gas for export.

Unity In The Community At Work.

Even in the burning sun we getting it done! Surprised most of all the 1-6 grade schools of San Nicolas with a nice little treat. In these rough times kids have to remain kids #unityinthecommunitfoundation

San Nicolas Main Street:

Knowing that we are not their priority, one of the ways to get things done is to put them on blast, anything you see that is not right or need to be fixed, take a photo, and tag the department concerned to help them see the problem, here is an example: our main street was in a horrible state, picture was taken and tagged all the government departments concern, and in a few days it got done! we have to think outside the box to get things done.

What Time Is It? Sanitize Time!
